My name is Anthony Muniz-Bueno. I'm currently striving to make myself a career into becoming a Front-End Developer. I graduated from Nucamp's Front-End Bootcamp in 2023, and now I feel confident to get myself into the field. This field is constantly evolving and there continues to be a lot for me to learn, but I believe I have the skills necessary to pick up what I need to know and to further improve my skill set.

Skillset

- Worked with different programming languages such as Python and Java. Javascript eventually became my main focus.

- Very familiar with the React library and can also utilize React Native

- Willingness to learn new libraries and innovating and optimizing code structures.

Education
